School Overview

Kelso State School is a Band 8 school situated on the outskirts of Townsville. Often described as 'the best kept secret in Townsville', many of our community have made a lifestyle choice to settle in this essentially rural area, close to the dam. At Kelso, we recognize that the future is in our hands and our agreed mandate is to maximise the learning of all students by unlocking their potential, unchaining their imaginations and forging keys for their futures. Our P to 6 curriculum is grounded in the basics of literacy and numeracy and focused on supporting and extending students to achieve their personal best across all the Key Learning Areas. Our music, sporting and science programs provide opportunities for students to engage with our local high school through the Riverway Cluster Schools. We are also very proud of our record as a sustainable and environmentally friendly school. Our community is actively involved in all aspects of school life; parents are encouraged to spend time in their children's classrooms, they are enthusiastic participants in our regular discos, and other events like our community fair, and special events like Anzac Day, Townsville Eisteddfod and the Bi Annual Regional Fanfare Music symposium.

Kelso State School implements instructional coaching, through collaborative inquiry to improve teaching practice aligned to the Australian Professional Standards for Teachers. This work is informed by evidence-based practice and research grounded in knowledge about how students learn and supports all staff and students to achieve high standards. This builds high quality evidence-based practice that is precise and involves monitoring and tracking student improvement through student achievement data which will improve student learning and level of achievement across English as a focus Key Learning Area. All students will be engaged in learning, achieving in a safe supportive environment.

The above underpins our three key improvement goals which are;

- Teaching Quality and Expert Teams
- Successful learners
- Safe and supportive environments

Future Outlook

The school leadership team is committed to developing and implementing a strong improvement agenda for the school.

The improvement agenda aligns state and systemic strategies with school-identified priority areas and concerns. Members of the leadership team are focused on working collaboratively with all staff members to develop school direction, initiatives and strategies to support improved learning outcomes for all students.

The school has a sequenced plan for curriculum delivery that is informed by the Australian Curriculum (AC) and resourced by the Curriculum into the Classroom (C2C) resource materials.

There are strategies to promote appropriate behaviour in addition to agreed responses and consequences for inappropriate behaviour

The school has recently progressed to an inclusion model for all students with disability.

Some teachers take a shared responsibility with the Special Education Program (SEP) staff members to monitor learning and in other cases the monitoring role is undertaken by the SEP teacher.

The school offers a strong music program. The program includes classroom music, an instrumental music program, choirs and lunchtime ukulele classes. Parents, students and teachers express high levels of satisfaction regarding the growing success of the instrumental music program, the strong participation of students and the success of the school band in local competitions. 20 per cent of the school population are participating in the instrumental program.

How Information and Communication Technologies are used to Assist Learning

The use of computers for learning is embedded within our integrated planning framework and in the collaborative whole school planning processes. Teachers are encouraged to use internet research and web quests as an integral part of the teaching and learning cycle.

Students in the early phase of learning use Smart boards, Email and the use of websites as part of their program and middle phase students use the range of programs including the Internet for research, Email, Word and PowerPoint. All classes have access to Smart boards or Interactive TV's to allow teachers to implement elements of the National Curriculum (C2C Units) and provide a variety of state of the art teaching strategies and pedagogy.

All classrooms are supported by at least 4 networked computers. There is also access in most classrooms to stand alone computers for the production of class presentations.

The mini lab Laptop Lab has been set up in the Resource Hub and can be accessed by all classes on at least a weekly basis. Computing skills are also taught in the lab using the school's data projector and other electronic resources.

Students and teachers have had access to iPads for learning with them being used in a variety of ways to support curriculum and learning development. All students have an individual, secure log-in for email and saving their work.

Parent and community engagement

The school views parents and families as important partners in their child's education and is committed to developing opportunities for them to participate in their child's learning development. Whole-school events including athletics carnivals and Under 8's Day are recognised as opportunities for staff members to interact with a larger number of parents, many of whom may not usually visit the school or classrooms.

The school employs a dedicated Indigenous CLO in a full-time capacity. The role is specifically linked to the wellbeing of all members of the school community. The CLO offers support to families in crisis through coordination of community support services, by in-kind and financial support. This support includes a partnership with Coles Supermarkets that provides grocery items for the Breakfast Club and food hampers that are distributed twice a week to support families of students attending the school.

All students with disability are supported in their learning with personal learning plans and some students have an Individual Support Plan (ISP) to address other learning needs.

Description of how non-attendance is managed by the school

Non-attendance is managed in state schools in line with the Department of Education procedures, Managing Student Absences and Enforcing Enrolment and Attendance at State Schools and Roll Marking in State Schools, which outline processes for managing and recording student attendance and absenteeism.

Kelso tracks and addresses student absence. Classroom and school attendance data is tracked weekly and discussed and celebrated on assemblies and in the newsletter. Other strategies include the delegation of duties for attendance monitoring and actioning to the intensive support teacher, employment of a CLO to work with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander families, and the alliance with the North Queensland Cowboys – Try for 5.

Rolls are marked twice per day allowing our school to track and monitor students attendance more effectively. Kelso has a text messaging system in place which alerts parents when a student is absent from school.

Conclusion

The relationship between Thuringowa State High School is further strengthening through the shared instrumental music program and the Global Tropics Future project.

Students from the school have the option of practising and performing with the Thuringowa State High School concert band once they complete the instrumental music level one book. The shared instrumental music teacher ensures travel barriers are mitigated to allow students the opportunity to advance their skills through performing with more experienced musicians.

The Global Tropics Future project is a joint Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics (STEM) initiative between James Cook University (JCU), Thuringowa State High School and 24 schools throughout North Queensland. The project has a core goal of engaging students in STEM learning from Year 5 through to university graduation. Young scholars participate in a range of face-to-face and virtual classroom lessons in solving authentic, real-life STEM challenges. Staff members indicate that students who participate in the Global Tropics Future project frequently go on to enrolment in the elective Year 7 subject called iSTEM (Integrated STEM).

The chaplain works at the school two days per week, working with individual students in classrooms. The chaplain has recently commenced work at the school and plans to offer a suite of programs to support the wellbeing of students and to foster resilience.

In partnership with the Salvation Army the school offers the Sports Leadership Indigenous Program (SLIP) to Year 5 students. A neuroscience and Rock and Water program provided by 'Me Too' and funded by allied health are delivered to Years 5 and 6 students.
